SECTION: GOSS & GLAM; Pg. 30

LENGTH: 262 words

HEADLINE: Alyssa charmed by co-star

BODY:

Alyssa Milano is dating her hunky Charmed co-star Brian Krause - whose five-year marriage ended after he arranged a secret date with Alyssa behind his wife's back.

"Brian and Alyssa looked so happy together, holding hands, kissing and gazing into each other's eyes," a witness told The National Enquirer magazine.

"They ordered an early dinner at the Malibu Seafood restaurant. Then they walked hand in hand along the beach.

"They stopped and kissed and watched the sun sink into the horizon.

"At one point, they just sat in the sand and held each other. It was very romantic."

Krause - who plays guardian angel Leo Wyatt on Charmed - was still married when he planned an outing with Alyssa, without telling his wife.

The 32-year-old actor secretly arranged a day of riding horses with Alyssa, 28, last December while his wife Beth was in North Carolina visiting relatives.

But Beth got wind of his plans and flew home early.

Beth suspected Krause was cheating, but she had never linked him with Alyssa.

Beth filed for divorce citing "irreconcilable differences".

According to divorce papers, the couple separated on January 5.

They married in July 1995 and have a son Jamen, 5.

Beth, a former NASCAR model, told The Enquirer: "Filing for divorce was nothing that I wanted to do, but I think it's the best thing for us."

Alyssa's marriage to rocker Cinjun Tate lasted only 11 months. They split in December 1999.

A friend said: "Alyssa started hitting on Brian on the Charmed set and he went along with it. They're having a hot and heavy affair."

LOAD-DATE: November 12, 2001